FYI… On the weekend of 10 -12 May 2019 the children and grandchildren of the 732 young orphan camp survivors who came to England in 1945/46, known as 'The Boys', will be meeting in Prague to re-create a photograph taken of their survivor parents/grandparents, 74 years after it was taken in Prague. The weekend will also include a reception with the British Ambassador and other dignitaries. The British Ambassador to the Czech Republic, Mr Nick Archer, is looking forward to meeting members of The Boys in Prague. Many of The Boys were finally liberated in Theresienstadt, and the group will take a trip there to visit the former ghetto-turned-concentration camp on the Sunday after the photograph. If you are the children or grandchildren of one of The Boys but have been out of touch with the 45 Aid Society, please contact us and join us for this memorable event. For information email team@45aid.org or www.45aid.org.

FYI… The Museum of Jewish Heritage – A Living Memorial to the Holocaust launched a new educational resource: New York’s Holocaust Curriculum: lesson plans and resources for students in New York City and beyond https://education.mjhnyc.org/

FYI… Wall to Wall Media: looking for contributors for an upcoming history series, which will follow British descendants of Holocaust survivors as they retrace their family's stories; sensitively exploring both the individual family stories and the wider historical importance of the Holocaust. Wall to Wall Media is known for other programmes such as Long Lost Family and Who Do You Think You Are? The production is in the early stages of research and we are looking to speak to members of the second, third or fourth generation of Holocaust survivors who would be interested in exploring their family history. If you'd be interested in an initial phone call, with no obligation at all to filming, please do get in touch with Katie Bryant, either by emailing katie.bryant@walltowall.co.uk or calling 0207 241 9286. Thank you.

FYI… My name is Deatra Cohen and I am currently researching the use of traditional folk medicine in pre-WWII European Ashkenazi communities. Does your family have unique or special healing traditions that were passed down through generations? “Bankhes” (cupping) and chicken soup are just two examples. If you can remember others and would like to share them, please contact me at artaed@gmail.com and I will send you a short questionnaire. Thank you.

FYI… Echoes & Reflections is excited to announce the release of our new Timeline of the Holocaust resource to foster student learning. This interactive tool chronicles key dates from 1933-1945 and is supported by primary source materials and accompanied classroom activities designed to enhance instruction. This resource supports students' critical analysis of cause and effect, guides exploration of the greater historical context of the Holocaust, and encourages engagement with age-appropriate, multimedia resources, all while highlighting the human element of this complex history.

FYI… The new documentary by 2G Aviva Kempner, The Spy Behind Home Plate, set for release in May 2019, tells the story of major league baseball player Moe Berg. In 1944, the Office of Strategic Services (OSS) assigned Berg, a Jew, to attend a lecture by German physicist Werner Heisenberg in Zurich. Berg was given a gun and a cyanide pill to take with him and was instructed to shoot Heisenberg if he was constructing an atomic bomb for the Nazis. He later worked for the OSS in a prominent role in US efforts to undermine the German atomic bomb program. For more: www.spybehindhomeplate.org
